

Transportation Disruptors: 2030 and Beyond

Bob Burlison, Florida Transportation Builders' Association

- What design standards/construction methods, if any, will be changed in order to blend together automated (driverless) vehicles with the “old-fashioned” driver required vehicles?
- In major urban areas how do we handle traffic congestion and transit in a manner that provides flexibility which encourages more transit ridership?
- How do we pay for all this?